Farmhouse Grounds

The farmhouse is enveloped by beautifully landscaped gardens that create an immediate sense of calm and seclusion. Sweeping lawns fall gently away from the house, framed by a series of sculpted topiary, neatly clipped hedging and thoughtfully positioned specimen trees. A combination of formal structure and soft planting provides year-round interest, with shaped evergreens, seasonal borders and mature trees adding depth and texture.

Stone terraces offer elegant spaces for outdoor dining and entertaining, each positioned to capture the best of the sunlight and the far-reaching rural views. The gardens transition seamlessly into the surrounding countryside, with rolling fields and wooded hills forming a picturesque backdrop. The result is a wonderfully private and impeccably maintained setting that complements the character of the property and enhances its sense of place.

Holiday Cottage Business

The holiday business was established in 2010 by a former owner, who converted the historic Black Hill Barn and Starlight Cottage into high-quality holiday accommodation and created the terraced garden to the front of the property. As an art historian and architectural conservator, the former owner commissioned specialist craftsmen and ensured that only sympathetic materials—such as oak, original flagstones, lime-wash pigments, and reclaimed slates - were used throughout the restoration, preserving the character and integrity of the buildings. A spa facility was later added to further enhance the appeal and functionality of the complex.

The current owners acquired the farm in 2021 and have continued to develop the enterprise, investing in improvements that support its growth as a successful holiday business. Recent additions include a partly sound-proofed, self-contained music room, along with a fully fenced front paddock designed to meet increasing demand from guests travelling with dogs.
