An impressively extended and generously proportioned 5-bedroom detached residence located in one of the most desirable areas of North Herefordshire. Situated at Poole Hill, this property enjoys a stunning elevated setting, offering panoramic rural views and a peaceful location away from main roads. The home offers spacious and thoughtfully designed living accommodation, benefitting from full double glazing and oil-fired central heating. It has been exceptionally well maintained throughout. Included with the property is a substantial traditional brick-built barn, presenting excellent potential for conversion to additional residential space (subject to planning permission). The barn has its own independent access, offering flexibility for a variety of future uses. The surrounding 20 acres of pasture land are fully fenced and equipped with a water supply, making the property ideal for those seeking equestrian or smallholding opportunities.

Situation

The village of Breinton is one of the most sought after parts of Herefordshire, being located a short driving distance to the west of the City Centre in very picturesque open countryside, a short distance from the River Wye. Hereford is a brisk walk and there is a network of well established footpaths leading to facilities in the Kings Acre area. The property itself is elevated, being located alongside a stoned track, which is within the ownership of the property (other owners do have rights across it), the outlook being primarily to the north over open fields.

Outside

The property is accessed via a stoned track, as indicated on the attached plan. The track is within the ownership of Poole Hill, however, neighbouring properties do have rights of access and maintenance obligations. The gated entrance leads to a large concrete courtyard with brick arched access through to the spacious gardens. The gardens are very well landscaped, primarily laid to lawn with many raised beds, shrubs, mature trees, Summer House, ornamental ponds. To the front of the property is a gravelled garden area with decking, all fully enclosed and offering much privacy. In addition, there is access to a full sized enclosed tennis court.

The Barn

A traditional, well maintained brick barn which would fulfil the criteria (in our opinion) for conversion to residential dwelling. No specific planning enquiries have been made, however, it is clearly redundant from modern agricultural use, it has been extremely well maintained and is worthy of retention. The barn is constructed of solid brick under a sheeted roof with steel joists, the large granary doors leading to an open area (13.88m x 5.54m) with through access to the paddock adjoining. To the side, as an integral part of the building, is a Wood Store 5.5m x 2.74m and former Cattle Shed 5.5m x 4.28m with cobble floors and stalls.

The Land

The land is in three enclosures, as per the attached plan, all laid to pasture with two separate water supplies. One particular feature of the land is the natural pond immediately opposite Poole Hill. This is a most attractive feature and has never been known to run dry. Vehicular access is provided to the land over the track. There is a radio mast sited within the most western paddock. This mast has been redundant for a number of years and is within the ownership of the property and does pass with the property.

The Track

From the Council maintained highway, to the extent of the hard surface, this is owned by the vendors. The first section being tarmac, the balance being stone surface. There are only a limited number of users who have full vehicular right of way for all purposes at all times and they are obliged to pay for any maintenance obligation that they have, however, it is a private road owned by Poole Hill. It also a right of way for walkers, as we believe it is identified as a bridle way.

Services

Mains water and electricity.

Septic tank drainage.

Oil-fired central heating.

The water supplies to the fields are metered, the supply to the house is not.
